QUEEN TACY REIGNS OVER 1979 HOMECOMING

The 42-0 Viking victory over the visiting Astoria Fishermen highlighted the 1979 Homecoming celebration. The traditional game ball was thrown out by Queen Tacy, and although it rained throughout the entire game, the enthusiasm was high.

Preceding the game was the second annual Homecoming parade. Due to weather conditions the turnout was small, but spirits were far from being dampened. The queen and her court led the parade followed by the class floats as well as their supporters.

Coronation night was as exciting for the audience as it was for the ten girls that went through a week of dreaming of this night moment and when the court was tapped, no girl left unhappy.

The theme for Homecoming 1979 was "Tomorrow" from the Broadway musical "Annie". This theme was chosen on the basis of the girl's future hopes and dreams. The crowning of princess Sandy Blair and Rhonda Flaig and 1979 Homecoming Queen Tacy Schull was preformed by first semester Student Body President, Jon Aamodt.

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

The 1979 fall production was entitled "You Can't Take It With You," written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, and directed by Mr. Mickey Johnson. The play began with three days of tryouts which consisted of reading lines from a script. Auditioners were given the option of trying out for the part they wanted, only, or for any given part the director assigned to them.

After tryouts came the long anticipation of whether or not they received a part, and if so, which one?

When the roles were cast, rehearsals began. These started with a read through of the play which began the long nights of concentration and frustration. One of the major difficulties was getting your lines down. That is; saying them with feeling and most of all, right after your cue line.

As the long job of rehearsing continued, the set was being constructed by Mr. Johnson's 7th period Play Production Class. They did the dirty work, putting up the walls, painting, and most important, lighting and furniture which was hand made by Mr. Johnson.

After the work was done, it was time to perform in front of the public. One outstanding job was that of Vicki Chipps who played Penny. During the whole performance when she was ailing with a sore throat, but as the tradition says—the show must go on. And she did just that.

JEALOUS GLARE—"Say you're kind of cute," says Miss Wellington (Cassie Reynolds) as she flirts with Donald (Steve Anderson) while the jealous Rheba (Cindy Thies) glares on.

"THE LARK"

"The Lark" is a story of the prosecution of Joan of Arc, a poor girl living in the city of Domremy in the country of France.

The play showed the series of events of how Joan heard the voice of St. Micheal one day as she was tending her sheep in the field. The voice told her to become the leader of the French Army at the time of the Hundred Years' War. Joan did so and in the end was condemned as a heretic and burned at the stake.

Since the time that he played the part of the English soldier in college Mr. Mickey Johnson has wanted to direct "The Lark". It took him 22 years to fulfill his goal.

Before Mr. Johnson sets out to direct a play he tries to visualize the set and the sequence of actions that he wants to portray to an audience. "The Lark" lent itself to experimentation with set, lighting, and costumes.

The set was very basic. Consisting of a set of risers on the left with five chairs on it, a throne on the right, and a satellite (table or platform) in front of the stage. The different sections were placed on different levels so the audience could see all of the action at one time. Colors of the set were basic black and gray to illustrate the harshness that was happening to Joan.

Lighting was used to illustrate the mood of that particular scene. Instead of a curtain, lights were used to space one scene to another which led to few breaks in the action. The colors of the lights were that of three different gels or shades. No-color Blue was used for the inquisition to symbolize the power that these five men had over that of Joan. Bastered Amber was used for the parts when Joan came upstage to symbolize a warm and understanding atomsphere. Surprise Pink was used in the scenes with King Charles because it was a lively but weak color, much like the personality of King Charles.

Costumes consisted of turtle neck sweaters, with an emblem on the front, and cords for the guys and dresses for the girls except for Joan. For when she first heard the voice of St. Micheal he told her to dress herself in that of a man.

The costumes were simple using only colors to distinguish the different groups of people. Black and white were for the clergy, red for the British, blue for the French, and pastel for King Charles. Joan was dressed in white.

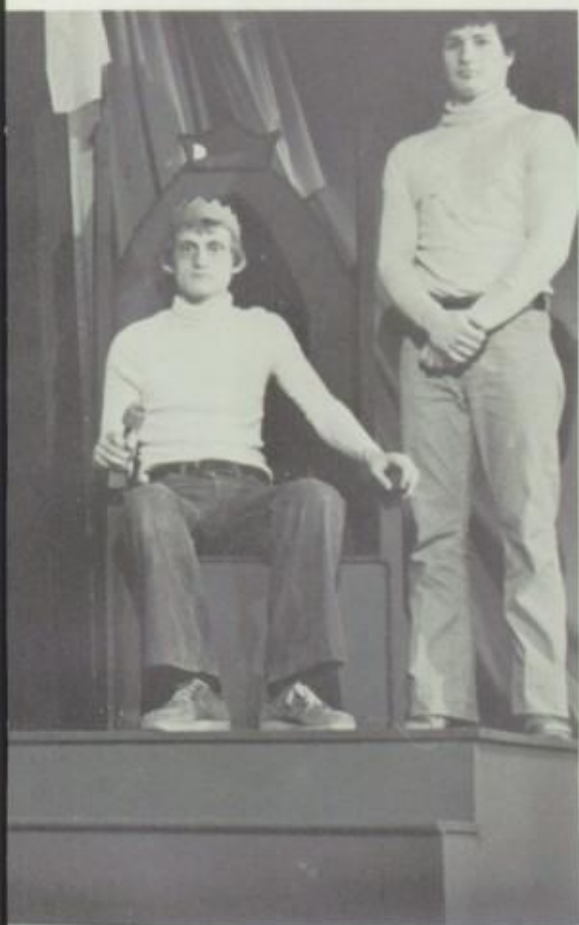

The reason for the simplicity was that of cost. For the original costumes of that time era the cost would have been $700 and up for one week's rent.

Even though the receipts at the door were not very impressive Mr. Johnson was very pleased with the production.

GENTLE BEATING—Joan's Father (Robert Blackman) threatens to beat Joan (Michele Michalek) after he learns of the mysterious voice that Joan heard as Joan's Mother (Cheryl Johnson) and Joan's Brother (Sean Melson) look on.

GENTLE PERSUASION—Joan (Michele Michalek) persuades Captain La Hire of the French Army into joining forces to fight the British.

STUDENT PRODUCTION RESULTED IN SELL-OUT CROWDS

"One Step Over The Rainbow" was written, arranged, produced, and directed by Senior John Schmor. The idea for the play first came as a children's musical to be performed at the grade schools. John also decided that he wanted to say things about his own age and he started the hunt for material. His decision on a musical resulted in reading several possibilities, among them, HAIR, THE ME NOBODY KNOWS, YOU'RE A GOOD MAN CHARLIE BROWN, THE FANTASTICS. After discovering all of them had wonderful songs and all of them had too many obstacles for one reason or another, John selected to take the best parts out of each one of them. It would be called a "Revue."

As John began to put the songs together he thought it would be neat to add poetry to fill in the spaces between songs. He went through shelves of poetry and found very little. Instead, he selected to interview a class of fifth graders and found the pot of gold. From the real dreams and fears of real dreams and fears of real children, and his own adolescent ideas, came a two act musical revue.

John began blocking, choreographing, arranging and casting with the idea of experimentation always present. According to him, each cast member contributed their own work with amazing insight. During production, lines were cut, written, characters were changed, adapted, and with the cast's work, continuity and polish were applied.

John and the cast worked for ten weeks, five hours a day. There was a lot of complaining throughout and they all cried when it was over. "That's the way a good show goes," according to John. "I never thought when I typed until midnight for a year and a summer that my musical revue would be brought to life as beautifully as it was. I pre-cast the show and ended up with an entirely different cast. They were better than anything else I could have hoped for."

The play was a complete success. Each performance was sold out and many people were turned away. As a result, one more production was added for the turned away audiences and a video-taping session.

FUND RAISING PROJECTS FOR FOREIGN CLUBS

The Los Amigo's Club, a club of Mexican-American students, organized profitable fund raising projects. Their earnings were invested in a trip to Cape Lookout. The projects consisted of a bake sale, popcorn sale and a pinata pumkin candy guessing contest. People could guess for 50¢ a shot, how many pieces of candy were in the pinata. This last event was captured by Mr. Siegrist, a special education teacher.

Like the Los Amigos Club the International Club organized a lot of fund raising projects. Paper drives and popcorn sales were the main sources of income for the International Club.

Their earnings were spent on movies and trips to foreign restaurants. The club ate at the Rheinlander, a German restaurant and a Polynesian restaurant in Portland.

The main purpose of the International Club is to socialize and to promote foreign cultures and interest.

Some students ventured into the zoo to remove damaged trees caused by the ice storm; some washed windows and cleaned carpets in the Forestry Center, and some picked up garbage in the parking lots. After the work was completed, OMSI treated the group to the first viewing of their newest light show and free admittance into the zoo.

HEALTH CAREER'S STUDENTS WORK IN COMMUNITY-

Included in the first semester of health career's class students learn basic health skills, studying the anatomy and physiology of the human body. Some of the health skills learned are how to determine vital signs and blood pressure, how to take TPR (temperature, pulse, respiration), bathing patients, specimen collecting and testing.

During the second semester students put their skills to work in the community working in the nursing homes for one month. After working in the nursing homes, students may choose two other health oriented occupations to observe for the remainder of the year. At the end of the year students receive a certificate from the state Board of Nursing stating that they are Certified Nursing Assistants.

JUNIORS ACHIEVE CHARITY DRIVE WIN

The spirit of giving was aroused in everyone when Miss Merry Christmas week arrived. Competition between classes for a common cause brought on a strong unity of togetherness. Toys, canned food and money were graciously donated by each class to provide a Christmas for those less fortunate. Following a week long of collecting items, it was announced at the Miss Merry Christmas Dance that the Junior class, represented by Jana Wagner, had won the contest.

MARCIE HALLAUER CHOSEN AS 1980's GAY 90's BELLE

The Gay 90's festival each year is headed off with the crowning of the Gay 90's Belle. The contest is held at the High School for senior girls only two weeks before the actual Gay 90's weekend. The contest begins with a walk-on where the girls walk in front of a panel of judges. Eight girls are then selected by means of interviews and given time to prepare a speech which they will give at the Belle contest. Then the Gay 90's Belle is crowned. Marcie Hallauer was 1980's crowned belle. The runners-up were Debi Arnoldi and Ilene Boersma.

The highlight of the Gay 90's festival is the All-Northwest Barber Shop Ballad Contest where quartets from all over the northwest gather together to compete and enjoy the festivities.

1980 brought about Forest Grove High School's very own Harmony Jocks who competed in the contest for the first time. The Harmony Jocks were the youngest quartet in the Ballad contest. The Harmony Jocks left the contest in ninth place.

Another major event that the high school was involved with was the choosing of Mr. Jeff Durham as Grand Marshall for the 1980 Gay 90's parade. Mr. Durham was seen by all of his loyal fans leading the parade down Main Street.

BAND NAMED CLUB OF THE YEAR

In addition to the traditional sporting performances, band members worked exceptionally hard to achieve a trip to Canada. Many fund-raisers were held to reach the needed amount of eight-thousand dollars. The band sold mugs bearing Forest Grove, OSU, U. of O., and Portland Trailblazer emblems, played a 24-hour marathon, and held a raffle.

The four day excursion to Victoria and Vancouver, B.C. included giving performances, sight-seeing of various locations and attending a performance of "Fiddler on the Roof", presented by the Victoria Operatic Society.

All of the hard work and dedication paid off this Spring when the band was recognized and awarded a trophy bearing the engraving, "Club of the Year".

CHEERLEADERS RAISE GYM ROOF

Hard work, dedication and long hours of practice was what enabled the Viking cheerleader squad to win a spirit stick and a superior ribbon at the National Cheerleading Association Camp at Lewis and Clark College.

The cheerleaders dedicated about three hours a day to work on posters, locker signs, improving new cheers and practicing old ones. School spirit raised the roof of the gym whenever they led the student body with the school fight song during games and assemblies.

DANCELINE HAD ACTIVE YEAR

Following a summer of intensive danceline camp training, the 1979-80 Danceline performed during the football and basketball half-times, with expert precision and enthusiasm. Their enthusiastic attitude continued throughout the school year with several activities. Sponsoring the "King of Hearts Dance" was one of the most fun and exciting activities. During a Friday school assembly, eight Senior men were tapped as royalty. In the evening during the dance, Lararo Lopez was dubbed King of Hearts. The fund raising project helped support the Junior-Senior Prom.

With the newly formed Willamette Valley League, many challenges involved. New teams never been played before by the Vikings suddenly became the teams to beat.

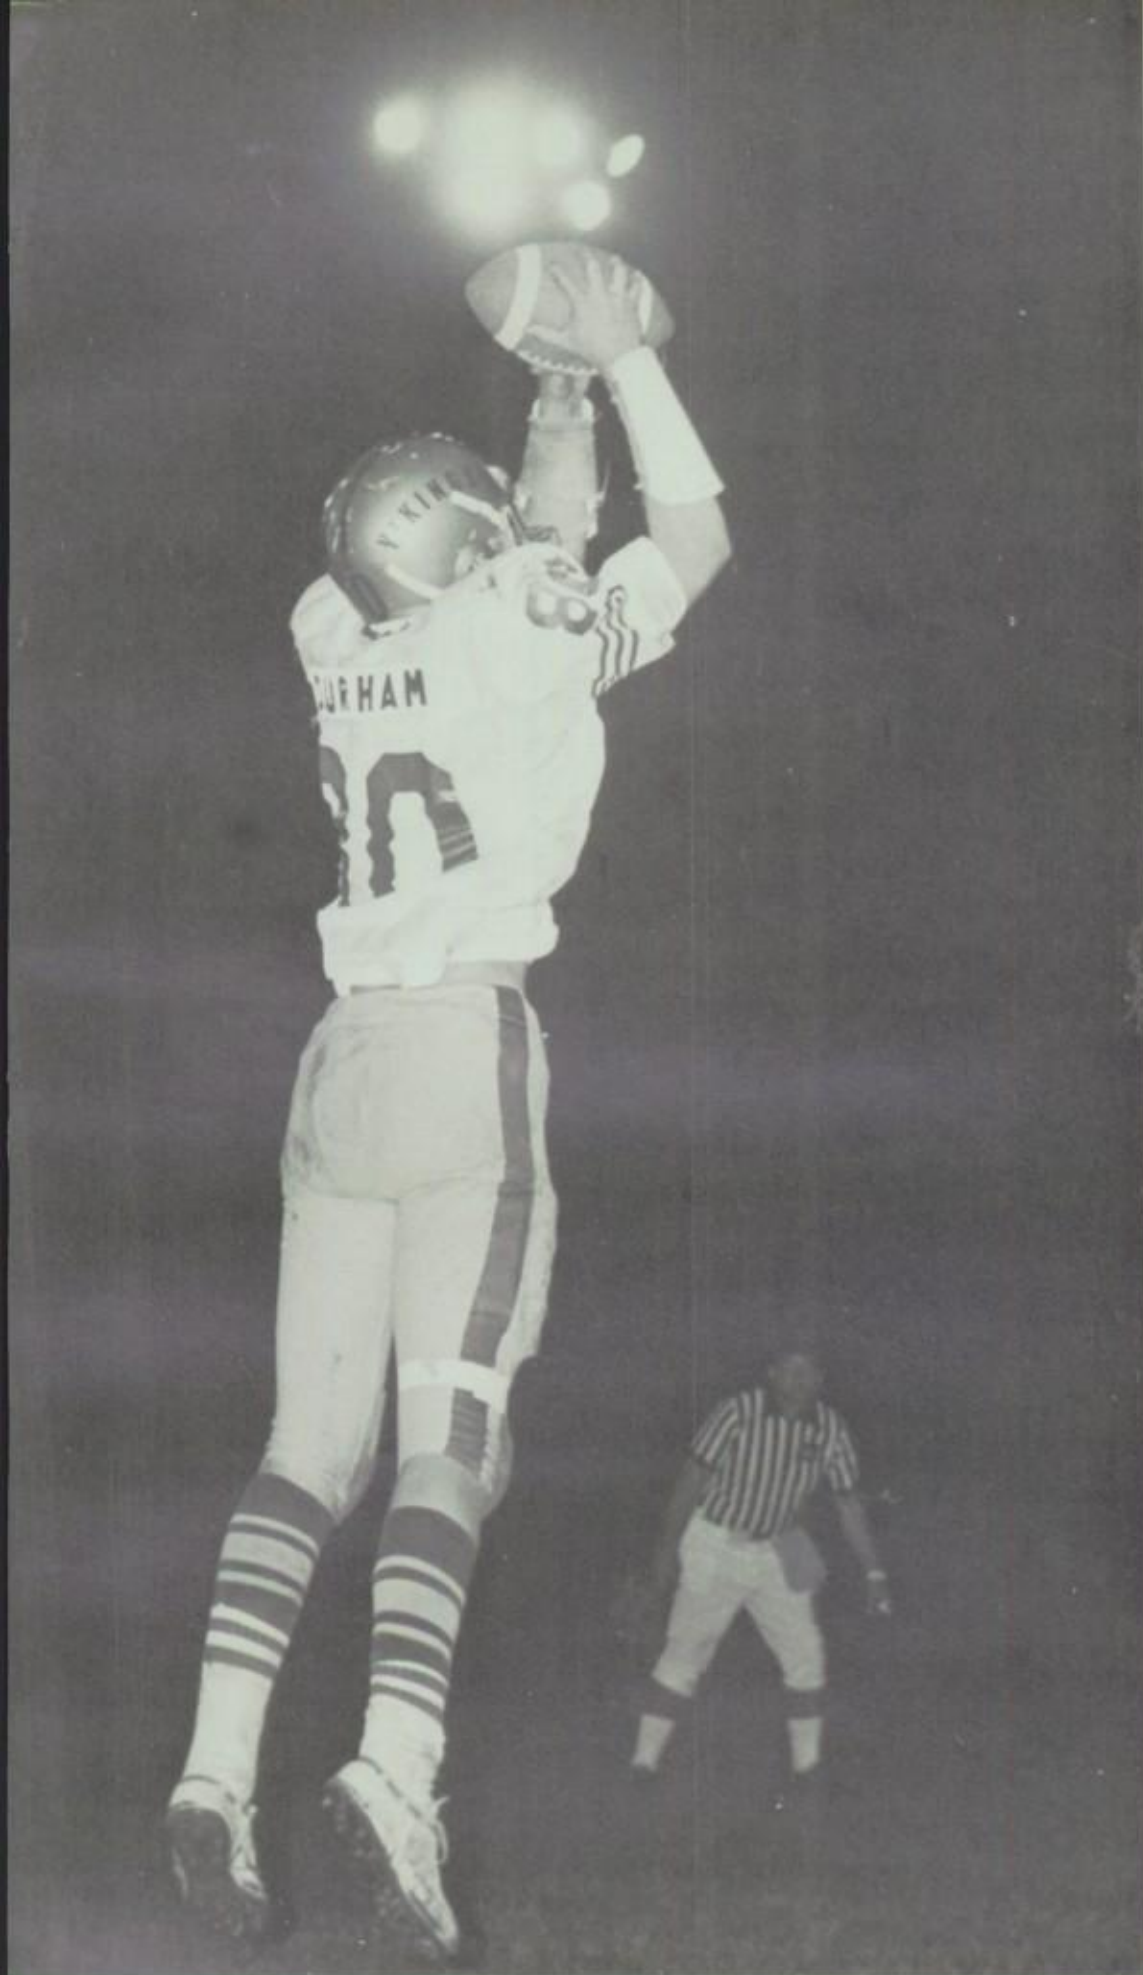

The Vikings tied with Lakeridge and Tigard for the League championship, which was the seventh straight League title for Forest Grove. They advanced to the first round of the playoffs where they defeated South Salem, but the following week were defeated by Medford.

After thirteen years as head coach, Mr. Jeff Durham announced his retirement at the football banquet. When looking over his past years with Forest Grove, we find he started in 1967 with a team record of 0-9, and leaves us in 1979 with a season record of 8-3, and seven straight League championships. "I was very proud of this year's team. Everyone seemed to work harder after we were hit with injuries throughout the season. It was a privilege to coach a real fine group of young men," says Durham.

Assistant Coach Jeff Basinski quoted, "It was a good year because of the seventh straight championship against tougher competition, but frustrating because of the high number of injuries."

TO THE RESCUE - Seeing that a Central Catholic Ram avoided being tackled, Senior defensemen, Jon Aamodt (60), Greg Swanson (76), and Lazaro Lopez (74) run to stop further yardage.

Jackson (65) is first semester Senior class and Lettermen's Club President, as well as an All-League and All-Metropolitan Area player. Albrecht (70), also an All-League and All-Metropolitan Area player is second semester Student Body President. Richard also received the Halm's Foundation Scholar-Athlete Award for his outstanding lineman abilities and was named to the 1979 Shriner's team.

STRUGGLE - Offensive tackle Rich Albrecht (right) makes the way clear while half-back Jon Meyers attempts to free himself from a Dallas opponent.

With seven seconds left in the game to play, a play that was invented by the players themselves involving a reverse and a long pass was put into action. A pass from Bafaro to Turgeon and the Vikings were victorious.

Through the help of the coaches, the junior varsity players gained plenty of experience and knowledge of the game of football.

Coach Tom House quoted, "I thought it was a successful season, anytime you're 500 or better on a win and loss you've had a good year. There were a number of sophomores who will be bonified varsity candidates as juniors."

COMIN' THRU - Sophomore Concepcion Moreno (right) passes up the opponent during an away game. Moreno was injured early in the season and was unable to play the whole season.

HEIGHT; BIG ADVANTAGE IN VARSITY VOLLEYBALL SEASON

With four girls over 5'10", the varsity team had an advantage most other teams did not. The only thing the team lacked was experience. Seniors comprised the entire varsity team with five returning letterwomen.

Of the two tournaments the Vikings participated in, the tournament in St. Helens was the most exciting for the girls. Of the two games they played against League rivals, Astoria, the Vikings posted their second 15-0 game in varsity history. The Viking girls went on to place second out of four teams, losing only to host, St. Helens.

Sandy Blair won a spot as a spiker on the WVL first team allstar squad. Sandy was also voted team captain, Marci Hallauer was voted "Most Improved" varsity player, and Karen Gurske was picked "Most Inspirational" by both the Varsity and J.V. teams.

NEW LEAGUE MAKES NO DIFFERENCE ...

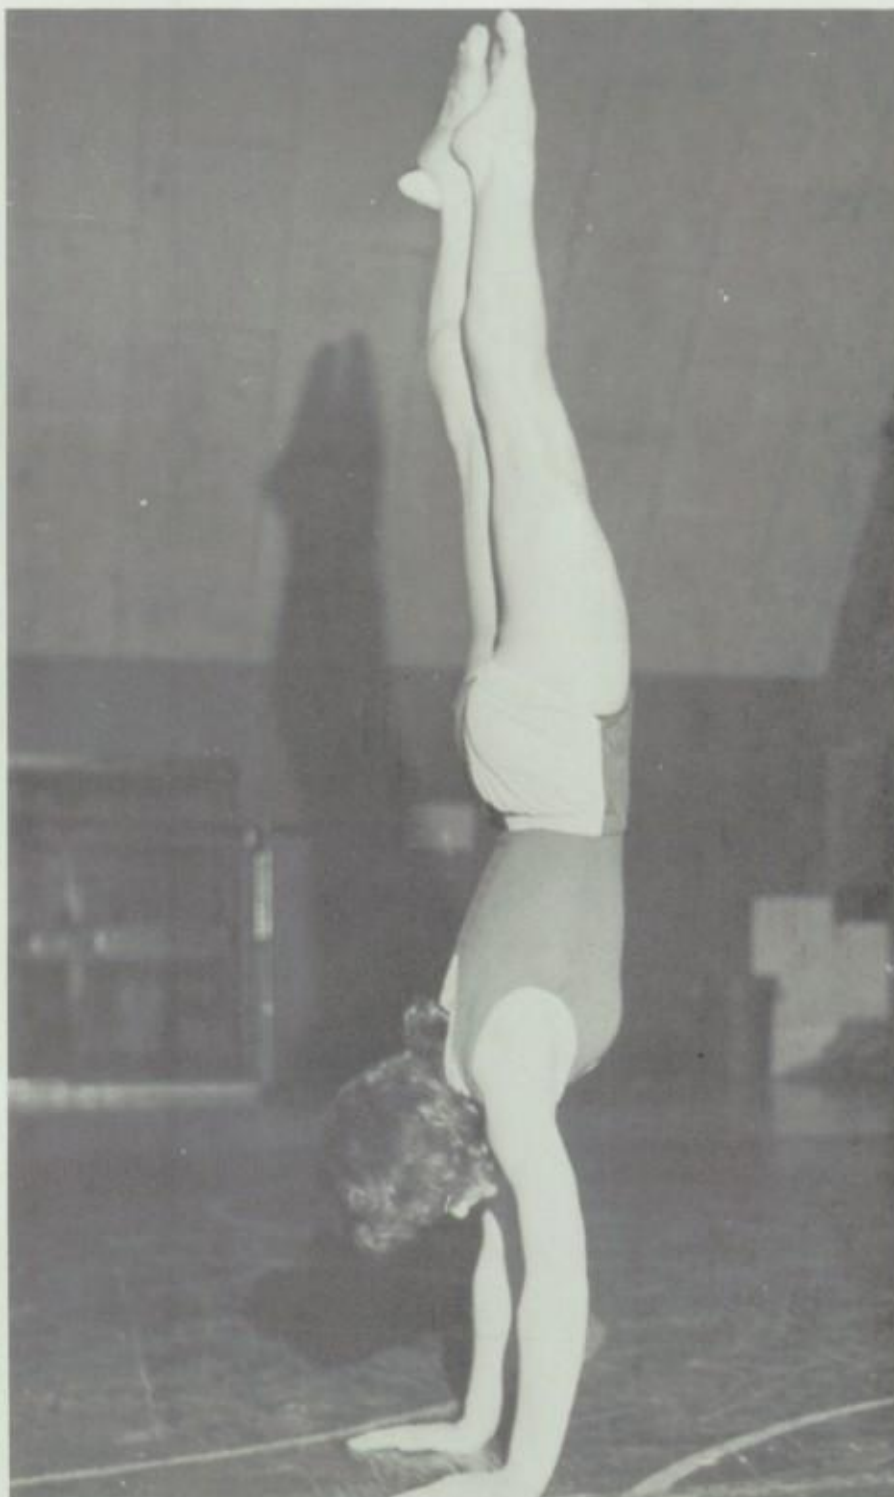

Newly formed Willamette Valley League posed no problem for the 1979 Girl's Gymnastics Team. The team came out with a four win, one loss record, putting them into a three-way tie with Lakeridge and Tigard, for the League Championship.

Injury plagued the Vikings all season. Cherie Kines, last year's defending District and State Bar Champion, was out due to a foot problem, and then after being asked to the prestigious Jackson Invitational, was sidelined because of a back injury. Junior, Marcy Crawford, was forced to quit after only two meets, recuperating from illness. The injuries did not hold the Gymnasts back though. The four Freshmen accepted the challenge, along with the company of the two returning Sophomore Letterwomen. Junior, Chloe Geiger, excelled in vault throughout the season. Team Captain, Jo Buckiewicz placed in 29 out of 30 events. Her team members voted her as the Most Inspirational. Freshman, Jill Lewis, took Honors as the Most Improved Gymnast.

Cross Country '79 began with a change of coaches. Mr. Mike Fitzgibbons, physics teacher, took over the leadership position. Coaching to Fitzgibbons is not unusual for he began coaching tennis the previous year.

The season began two weeks before school, the team was small, but began to grow as school started. Their first meet was held at Cape Lookout for the Tillamook Invitational.

Practices were held in the afternoon, Monday through Friday. They were very informal in a way that everyone ran at his or her own pace. This usually consisted of between two and five miles with scattered sprints in between. Everyone ran, including the coach! Whatever the team was doing, may it be sprinting, running, or resting, so was he.

One of the most important things that Mr. Fitzgibbons did was strive for better promotion and acknowledgement for the team. He would always call the paper and give the race results. Even in the middle of the season he was still out recruiting for people to join.

The Forest Grove Viking Soccer team, made up of six seniors, nine juniors and twelve sophomores, had quite an interesting year. A lot of positions needed to be filled and it took some time for the Viking machine to get the ball rolling.

It wasn't till halfway through the season that the Vikings got things a little bit together. Then the Vikings managed to win and tie a couple games.

The single most interesting and fascinating game was against the Tigard High School. The first time the two teams met, was a total fiasco, with Tigard beating the Viks 8-1. But the second game was a totally different story. The Viks took a quick lead in the beginning of the game when team captain Menno Swart, on an assist from Darin McGee, scored the first goal of the game. Tigard answered this with two goals of their own, and the Viks were down 2-1 at half time. The second half was totally dominated by the Vikings who managed to tie the game later in the second half on a 20 yard shot by Ron Caldwell assisted by Menno Swart.

NEW BASKETBALL COACH IN TOWN

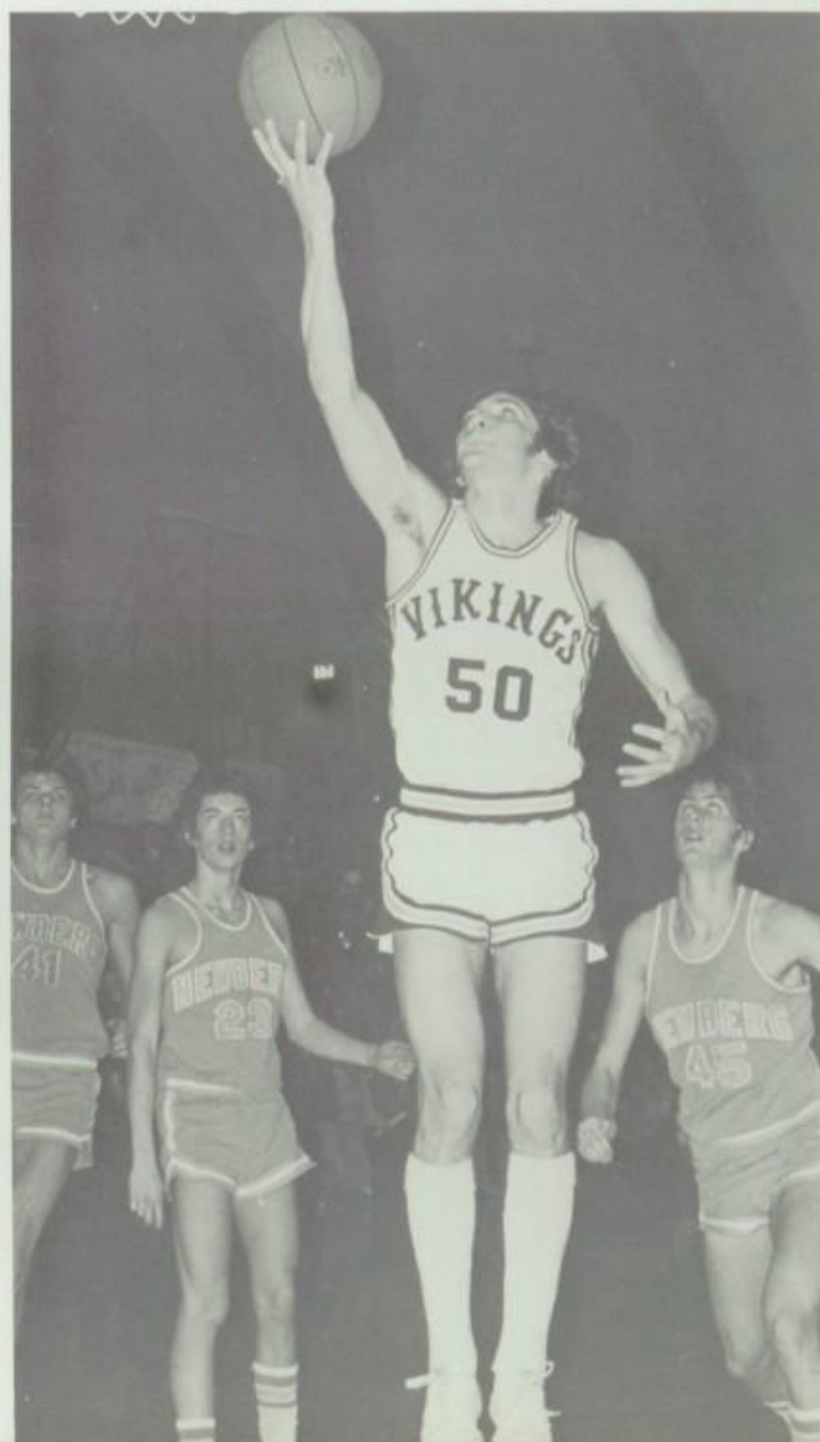

Mr. Dennis Paola is the new Forest Grove High School Basketball coach. Before moving to Forest Grove High School, he was the assistant basketball coach under Mr. Long of Lake Oswego.

Even though the Vikings season record, 4-18, looks dismal, their season was very exciting and competitive. The team, consisting of five seniors, four of which are returning lettermen, four Juniors and two Sophomores lost 9 games by an amazing total of 15 points.

The Vikings ended the longest winning streak in Oregon prep basketball by upsetting the State Champions of 1979, the McMinnville Grizzlies, led by All-American Charlie Sitton, 42-41. Forest Grove was the only team able to beat the Grizzlies in the new Willamette Valley League.

YOUNG VIKS THOUGHT OF HIGHLY

Coach House was proud of the performance of his Junior Varsity team. Although the team started out with fourteen players they ended up with seven due to injury and loss to the Varsity team. Even though the team was small, they put out that extra effort which made them competitive during the complete season. Most of the games they did lose were by small margins.

The girls basketball team had more than its share of hard times this year, but they made the best of it by turning out a five win, nine loss season.

The first of their misfortunes came when starting guard, sophomore Kelly Durham tore ligaments in her knee during the first league game of the season. With Durham out for the rest of the games, everyone knew they would have to carry a little bit more of the load.

Just as the team was adjusting to the loss of Durham, disaster struck once again. Coach Joe Moran suffered a heart attack mid-way through the season. From then on everyone knew it was going to be a little tougher than what was expected at first. The team had some problems adjusting to the loss of Moran, but due to an extra-super effort from all team members, and fine stand in coaching by Mr. Lee Kingham, they turned out a season that no one could be ashamed of.

YOUNG WRESTLERS SHOW GOOD TEAM EFFORT

Team effort is the name of the game for the Viking wrestling team. The inexperienced Vikings, seated 8th in the Willamette Valley league, contrived to capture 3rd place in district. This young Viking team consisting of four seniors, five juniors and nineteen sophomores had some excellent leadership. The team's main leaders were Dale Savage, Lozaro Lopez and Rob Schisler.

Vikings Kim DeLashmutt, Rob Schisler and Tim Holub, qualified for state. Tim Holub succeeded to capture 5th place, 168 pound class, in this event.

The Viks first year head coach, Mr. Haack, mentioned; "wrestling is considered an individual sport but Forest Grove has developed it into a team sport as well."

SWIMMING—BEST YEAR EVER!

Forest Grove High has seen its best swimming season ever. The 1979-1980 season consisted of more than 30 people, all of whom were at different levels of swimming capabilities.

Coach Dan Zenor who has coached swimming for more than seven years at Forest Grove High School commented that the 79-80 season went very well. He was particularly proud of the boys' half of the team, which ended the year with the highest dual meet record and the highest place at the state for the Sweathogs.

Zenor was especially happy with the boy's 200 medley relay, which walked away with both District and State first place ribbons and set a new District record. They also received All American honors.

He was also pleased at the amount of girls that turned out for the sport, even though they lacked experience. It was a good sign for the following years of swimming.

The most outstanding swimmers of the year were Senior Robb Bauer and Dori Burlingham. Robb received both first place honors at District and State and broke the State record in the 100 back, which was the longest on the record books. Dori also received honors at State with a fifth place in the 100 free.

Another aspect of the Sweathog team was that of diving. Forest Grove is proud to have one of the largest diving teams in the State, which also outnumbers the amount of divers in the whole District. Many of the divers who came out for the sport were first timers.

Mrs. Nancy Haack who coached diving the previous year was very pleased with the amount of participation that the divers showed. She was very proud of the places that the divers received in both District and State competition.

The most valuable player of the team was Rob Huson. Jim Goodrick - Best at Bat, Jim Jansen - Most Inspirational, Robert Sanchez - Rookie of the Year, and Lester Miller was voted Most Improved player by the team.

ASTORIA DEFEAT HIGHLIGHT OF J.V. BASEBALL SEASON

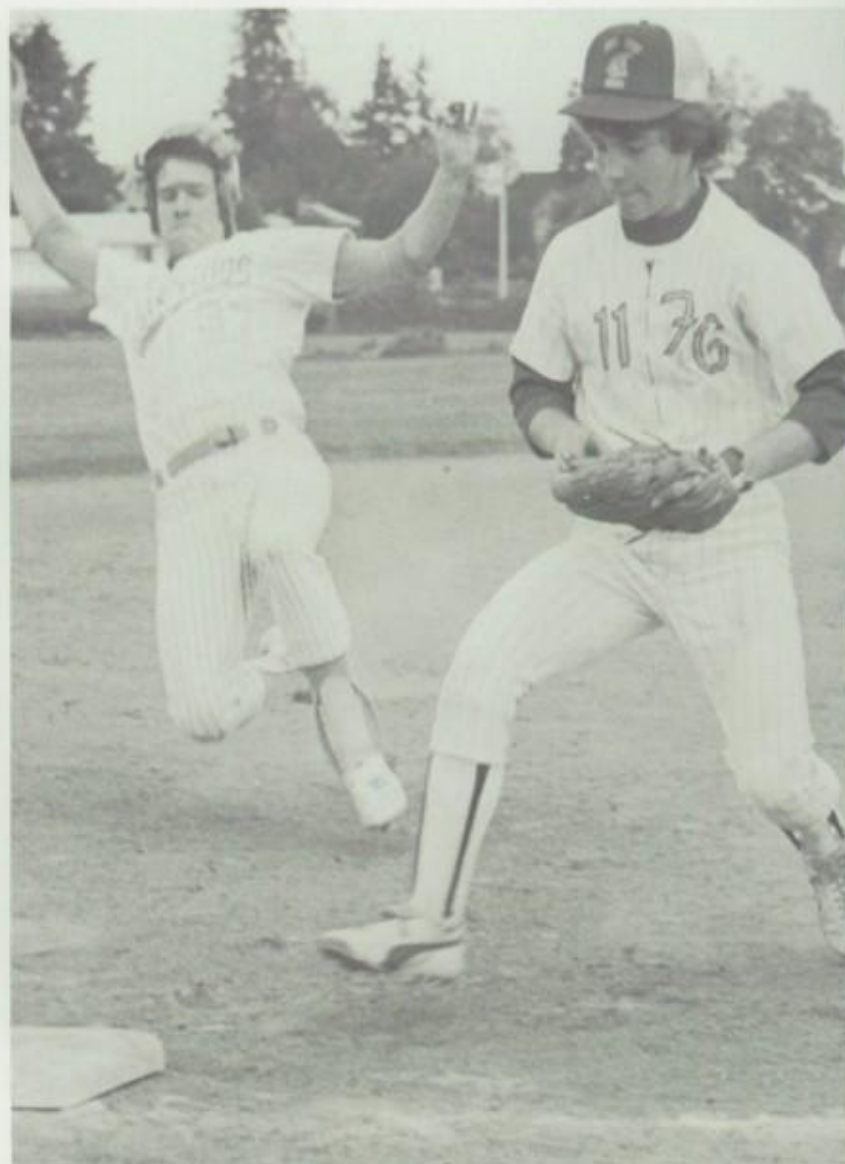

Even though the J.V. baseball team record was a little short on the win side, the Vikings did provide spectators with exciting games. Notably was the Astoria game where the Vikings couldn't seem to do anything wrong. They beat the Astoria team by a score of 23 to 1. The most valuable members of the team were Blayne Bafaro, Mark Hammon and Ray Cammann. Most inspirational player was Martin Romiro and the best hitter was Blayne Bafaro. The individuals received recognition at the Spring Sports Awards evening.

BIRDIE— Patience and accuracy were always on the side of Dave Damewood.

GOLF TEAM PLACED SIXTH AT DISTRICT

McNary Golf Course was the location of the District Golf Match held May 12th. Out of the eight teams that participated Forest Grove placed sixth. "Being sixth may sound bad, but we were in a very tough league," says Coach Garcia. Five players did place at the match and they were Steve Vaughn, Brian Jones, Brad Durham, Dave Damewood and Art Fleming.

DETERMINATION PROVEN IN FOUR WINS

The 1970-1980 boys' tennis team was unable to add to their trophy collection due to lack of experience, but not spirit. It takes a combination of coordination, agility and speed to become a good tennis team and through their thirteen matches this goal was achieved.

CONSISTENT SEASON PLACED GIRLS TENNIS TEAM FOURTH IN LEAGUE

Being in a different league than last year, provided difficult comparisons of performance for the team. Coach Hewitt did feel that the team had a consistent year. The team completed the year by placing fourth in league competition, losing only two matches. Following the regular season, the boys and girls joined to play mixed doubles. Glen Andrews and Linda Nixon came in first with Mark Olson and Marilyn Howard as runner-up.

PERSONAL RECORDS BROKEN DURING TRACK SEASON

Boys track team got off to a very good start this season. Thirty five boys worked very hard this season achieving their own goals and personal records. An average of twenty personal records were broken each meet. Although the total team wins stood at two, with seven losses, the season was considered a success

FROM THE BENCH—Points on how she would have run the race are explained by Chloe Geiger to Mark Perkins and Dave Robbins, while Jo Buckiewicz and Kathy Pace listen carefully.

NEW LEAGUE TOUGH - VIKS SEND FOUR TO STATE

Entering a new league can be tough, but the girls' track team held on. This year there were more than 20 girls out for the team and all of them worked hard to be able to compete in the District meet. Twelve girls went to the District meet held in McMinnville on the 22nd and 23rd of May. Four of these girls qualified for the State Track Meet.

Jenni Bridges, Jan VanDyke, Shawna LaZorick and Chloe Geiger made up the 400 meter relay which placed second at District with a time of 50.00. Shawna LaZorick placed second in long jump at 17'3", Jenni Bridges placed first in the high jump at 5'7" and first in the hundred hurdles with a time of 15.56. Chloe Geiger placed 3rd in the 400 meter run and will go to state as an alternate.

Beginning Acting is a semester course dealing with the fundamentals of acting. The course is taught by Mr. Mickey Johnson who is the director of the Drama Department.

The first nine weeks of the course deals with such things as overcoming stage fright and improvisation techniques. For example--the director asks the students to characterize themselves as two people, like an environmentalist and a litter bug. They then try to convince each other that the other is wrong. It sounds confusing but it is fun.

Grades for the first nine weeks are based on a number of the following; body language (movement of the body in relation to what the speaker is trying to say), how the person portrays their character to an audience, and loudness and clarity of their voice (making sure that the audience can understand what the person is saying without picking apart the sentence for each and every word).

In the second nine weeks the students are separated into groups and then given a one act play which they are assigned to perform. They have a choice of performing in front of the class or the student body eighth period in the Little Theater. Those that do not do their one act play in front of the student body will do so in front of the members of their own class in their designated periods. The eighth period performances are open to the student body at no charge.

Beginning acting is open to all students interested in pursuing a career in acting or maybe just trying out for one of the school plays . . .

There are several projects required for the class. They include: a shelf, some type of box construction, a drawer and a lathe project.

The student may choose from different types of wood, such as, maple, ash, cedar, and mahogany. Students learn to use a variety of tools during the class, ranging from the power saw, radial arm saw, and a wide variety of hand tools.

COMPUTER TALK HEAVY IN ROOM 21.

Computer Science is a class that is designed to give a student the skill to develop simple computer programs as well as to understand the role the computer plays in the world today. This nine week course taught by Mr. Don Singer, acquaints his students with a series of computer known as the Pet 2001.

Some of capabilities of this system are problem solving, recreational games and visual readouts. Prerequisite of this seventh period class is Algebra I. Knowing algebraic expressions and equations will help you to better understand programming and operation of the computer.

PHOTOGRAPHERS DEVELOP NICELY

There is a lot more to photography than just the instamatic camera and flash cubes. Juniors and Seniors in Mr. Taylor's photography classes soon discover that picture taking does not end with the camera, but there is a total new world that exists in very dim light, the darkroom.

STUDENTS AT WORK--Dave Damewood, David Worley and Vicki Barrows take careful measurement before cutting wood for their picture frame. The project was to take a black and white photograph, print it on an 8 x 10 sheet of photographic paper and make a frame for a wall hanging.

STUDENTS JUMP FOR HEART ASSOCIATION

Thirty-six FGHS students spent their first three hours of spring vacation in the gym jumping rope to raise money for the American Heart Association.

Certificates and prizes were given to the most successful jumpers with Tammy Kennison raising the most money which was $147.00 and with all the FGHS jumpers totalling $1,072.50.

The Jump-a-Thon received excellent support from both teachers and students, probably because of the heart problems of our own teacher, Mr. Moran. Faculty members who helped organize were as follows: Mrs. Fleskes, Miss Hewitt, Mr. Adams, Mrs. Kim, Mr. Basinski, Mr. Durham, Mr. Olson, Mr. House, Mrs. Franks, and Mrs. Adams.

Forestry, taught by a new teacher, Mr. Hart, is a full year class which can only be taken by Juniors and Seniors. This class deals with logging equipment, identification of trees, careers in forestry, soils and their relation to the forest. Mapping, surveying, & plant and animal life management and forest protection are also covered in this class.

Mr. Hart received most of his teaching material from Oregon State University which he attended before working for the Forest Grove School district. He doesn't follow the book they use in Forestry class, chapter by chapter, because each year there are different techniques and new logging equipment in the Forestry business, instead he instructs his students from his knowledge and experience.

If the weather is good, Mr. Hart takes his class on some field trips to the school forestry location located behind the football field. There these students will be able to use their skills in reality.

STUDENTS CREATE WHILE WRITING

Many students may wonder what creative writing has to do with learning. Through studying the course, it was found that students write poems, essays and other types of papers that express themselves.

At the beginning of the class, students come in and write a short story of their thoughts. During this time a student will learn how to use his mind and be creative in his work.

Creative writing teaches a student how to expand his use of words on paper and to let his mind wonder while writing.

FOODS FOR THOUGHT

Students in Advanced Foods class indeed have many foods to think about. They cook meals from China, Italy, Germany, and Mexico, plus a host of other foods, such as sourdough breads and foods made with cheese. Mrs. Pate and Mrs. McKeen try to choose the more common foods from each of the countries such as Beef Stroganoff, Strawberry Bavarian Cream and Soft Pretzels from Germany, or Tacos, Enchiladas, and Burritos, made from Tortilla shells that the students make themselves.

To begin each different lab, the students first see a film about the culture of the country, then they study the meals they are to prepare, and for the final test, they go ahead and make the meal.

COMPREHENSIVE WELDING SKILLS TAUGHT

The first 3 weeks are spent studying the safety of the equipment and the basic use of each part. Before they can go on into the shop, they must pass a safety code test. This test is part written, and the other is graded on skill by working with two pieces of sheetmetal. Their work is graded on neatness and skill usage. 90% or better is required on this test, which is required by the state. After passing the test, they go into the shop and experiment with different types of metals and use different types of welds. The main metal used is sheetmetal. The welding is done by gas, arc and electric.

The class is only 9 weeks and can be taken by all students. After completing the course, they can go on to advanced welding if they choose.

Advanced welding is associated with the welding fundamentals class, except that you use more advanced skills with the same equipment. The skills you learn are using the wire feeder welder, overhead welds, where they do the welds upside down, vertical weld, where you weld on a straight up surface.

This class is 9 weeks and offered to students who have taken beginning welding first.

STUDENTS ATTEND LIVESTOCK JUDGING COMPETITION

First semester Animal Science students' activities were highlighted by a trip to the Northwest Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland. Student teams from Forest Grove High School placed seventh and thirteenth out of ninety-five teams in the livestock judging competition. The next day a team composed of the best judges from Forest Grove took second place in Hereford Heifer judging.

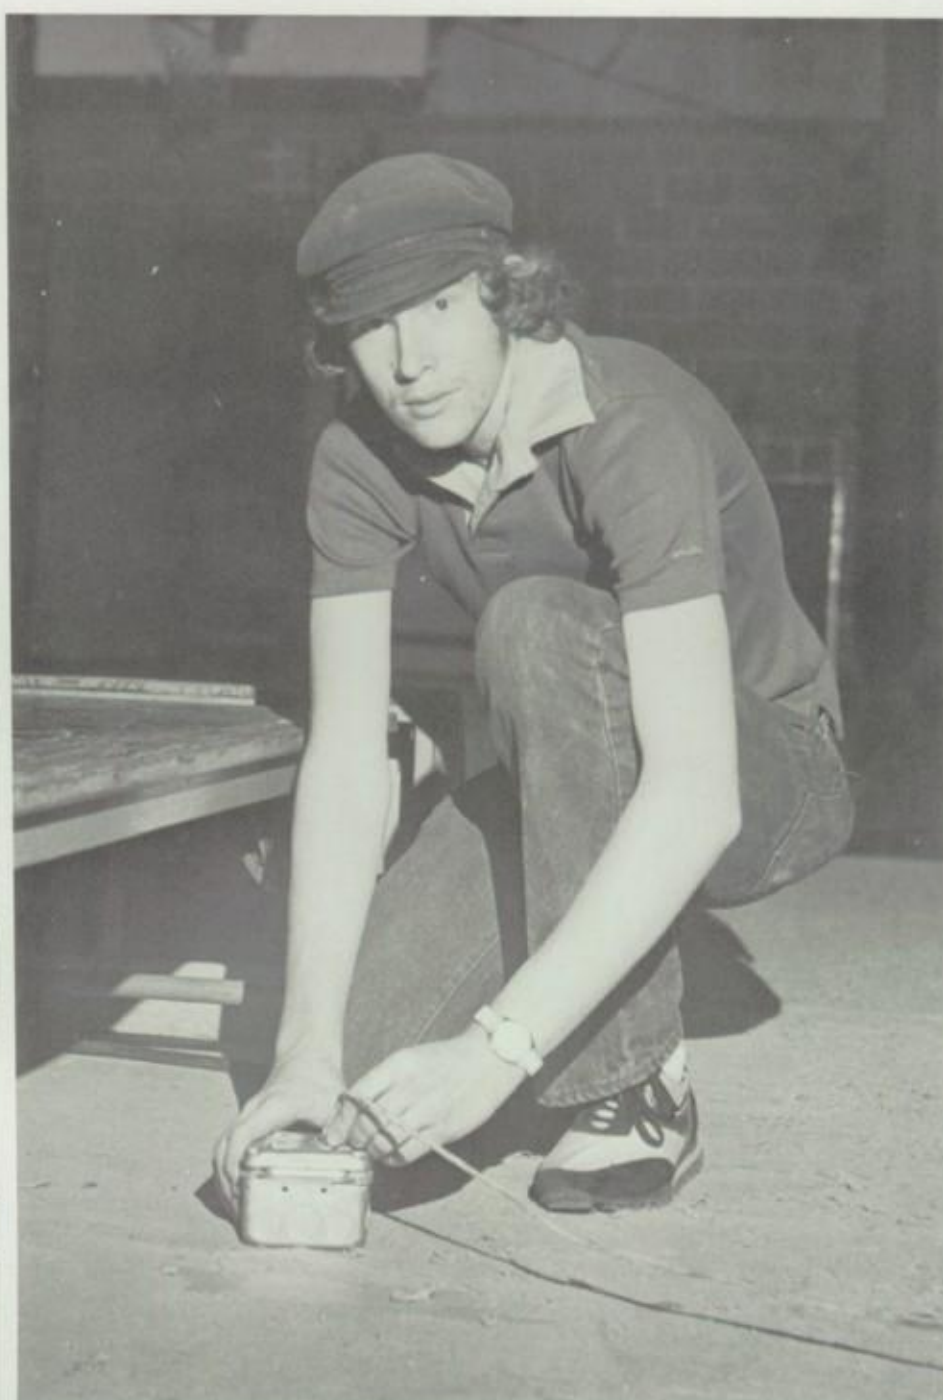

Back at the classroom, Mr. Swan teaches students the different breeds of many animals such as horses, cows, and other livestock, where they come from and how to manage and care for them. Students go to local farms and help in weighing, dehorning, and tagging.
